

The NAA Community Site & Online Resource Center

<http://community.naahq.org>

The NAA Community Site & Online Resource Center, NAA's newest member benefit, is an online network for professionals in the multifamily housing industry. NAA members can become engaged and involved with other NAA members and staff, and quickly access a huge and ever growing collection of apartment-specific resources.

The site allows NAA members to interact with other members and apartment professionals through special Interest Group Communities and Discussion Forums, where they can discuss best practices, share experiences and ask for input. Users can also search the Online Resource Center for best practices, market reports, articles and other resources on a wide range of topics relevant to the industry, including Fair Housing, building operations and staff education and training.

The NAA Community Site & Online Resource Center makes it easier than ever to connect and network with your apartment colleagues from around the country, and allows you to do so from your office without requiring any traveling away from your apartment community.

What Will The NAA Community Site & Online Resource Center Do For You?

- You can easily locate and contact other members to establish your own set of contacts.
- You can easily see ongoing discussions that may include members from other regions, or who might be facing or might have already met similar challenges to you. You can easily contribute to the conversation or present your own questions to the entire membership, and, you can do all of this at whatever time is most convenient for you—overnight, during the workday or weekends.
- You can actively participate in social networking with control over what you share on your profile, and you can do so with the knowledge that only NAA members are privy to your profile.
- You have access to posted documents, videos and more that you either may not be able to locate on your own, or might not come through your E-mail due to firewalls or other restrictions.
- You can collaborate with others who share your goals or challenges.
- You can build professional relationships with other multifamily housing professionals who share your interests, but are geographically remote.

Don't be left behind ... join the conversation today!

Easy Steps To Get Started:

- Visit <http://community.naahq.org> and login using your NAA Web ID and password.
- Not sure what those are?
Visit www.naahq.org/memberonly/account to reset this information. You can also E-mail membership@naahq.org for assistance.

Once you're logged in, you're all set to get the most out of the networking and knowledge building opportunities available to you!

- Customize your profile and your privacy preferences, under the My Profile tab.
- Explore the various Interest Group, Event, Education and Member Created Communities and join the ones that fit your multifamily housing interests, under the Directory tab.
- Join an ongoing discussion or start a conversation of your own, under the Forums tab. Please note that to participate in a Forum, you must first join that Forum's Community.
- Start networking—go to the Directory tab and Find a Member to connect with.
- Search the Online Resource Center for apartment-specific information, under the Resources tab.
- Read what's on your fellow NAA members' minds under the Blogs tab.

Have unanswered questions? We've included a list of Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ) that can be found in the top right corner from any page within the site.

Don't be left behind ... join the conversation today!

